From the staff of Bangor Public Schools

Bangor elementary summer school students had yummy fun incorporating blueberries into a math lesson. The students sorted the blueberries, counted them by 5's, made arrays with numbers, and created multiplication equations. The lesson showed that learning can be fun and delicious!

Bangor elementary summer school students built a solar oven for a fun and edible science activity! The hot weather made the ovens very efficient.

The Bangor Fire Department kept the students cool this summer with several visits with their fire hose.
